ACCREDITED VIRTUAL MASTERS IN HIGH
PERFORMANCE LEADERSHIP

The LIMBIC SYSTEM

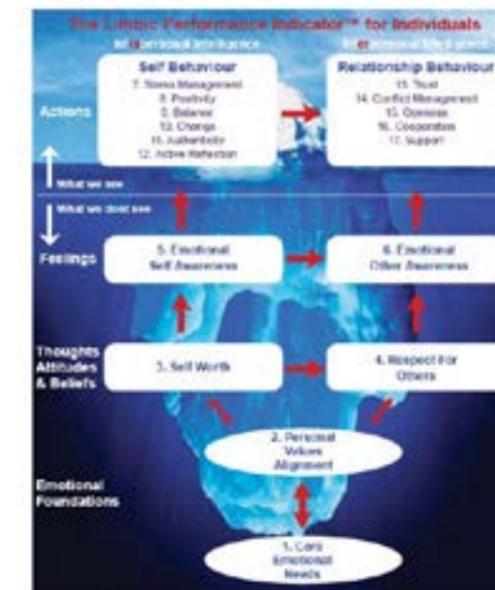

This powerful, subconscious region of your brain contains the amygdala (responsible for triggering emotions), the hippocampus (involved in encoding memories and beliefs) and the hypothalamus (regulates hormones to influence how you feel).

In connection with other brain regions, the Limbic System plays a crucial role in driving behaviour, emotions and influencing the way you think.

It plays a crucial role in your decision making, intuition and your reactions to what you experience in the world around you.

And the Limbic system plays a crucial role in how you perceive the world and is consequently directly connected to your levels of happiness and success.

Research shows that lasting changes in behaviour and the formation of effective new habits require changes within the encoding within the limbic system.

How would it feel if you could ...?

- Understand your behaviour better and positively influence the behaviour of those around you
- Know who you are, your motivations and purpose in life
- Have high levels of self-worth and self-confidence in every situation you face
- Live a stress-free, balanced life
- Acting with authenticity
- Coach and lead your team to any desired result
- Live authentically and stop 'playing a role'

- Take control of your nutrition and manage your energy better

The Virtual Masters in High Performance Leadership (VMHPL) is a 12 month programme that helps you achieve all of this and more, without leaving your home or office.

This web-based programme dives into the 17 areas of leadership, taking you by the hand and developing you into an authentic leader.

What's more, you have a monthly 1-1 coaching and mentoring session with Steve Neale, to help you make lasting changes to your subconscious mind and tailor the outcome of each module to your unique needs.

By the end of the programme, you will develop into a life-changing leader, created unstoppable levels of self-worth, lead your team with authenticity and start living each day with more energy than you ever imagined possible.

Usually, when you decide to invest in your own or your team's education, you expect a certain outcome. When your expectations are met you will say about your teacher that he or she is highly professional, both in method and knowledge. But what do you say when your expectations are exceeded by a very large margin? When you learn things you have never imagined you can learn? When your teacher guides you on a completely new journey? When you feel that he actually helped you to change your life? That is what you get when you experience Steve Neale and his Masters Programme."

Olaf Martens, Company Owner and Director
MHPL Class IV Graduate

There are two periods in my life: before and after I've met Steve Neale and attended his Masters training. With Steve's help I've "met" the TRUE ME. As a consequence of knowing Steve I have grown and I continue growing as a person and as well as a leader to my people, which is being recognized by my team as well as friends.

What is Steve's secret? The quality of his products and material, which are immediately applicable with powerful tools. Quite simply, learning from Steve has changed my life.

I am writing these words with a happy smile on my face and very grateful heart.

Steve is the best. I have never meet a teacher with such a drive and surplus. Steve teaches with his heart and that's why he is the best!turn theory into action, linking the so called "soft" skills into business strategy, results and performance.

The highlight of 2013 for me was of course Steve Neale's Masters in High Performance Leadership which has already brought so many magic changes into my life and I know that this is only a beginning. I feel that this was the best investment that I have ever made.

Steve Neale is a professional who has studied, researched and put into one backpack everything that you need to know and experience in your journey to discover the land of emotional intelligence and leadership. The weight of the backpack is barely noticeable as Steve has chosen the most memorable scientific facts in a simple language of pictures, stories and metaphors. I have been fortunate to have been given this knowledge and experience by Steve and taken the journey which has led me to make remarkable changes in my life.

"If I would have an chance to give a gift to everyone in this world, it would be the Masters journey I've had with Steve Neale and the LPS model he is spreading. I feel privileged and very grateful to have been given the opportunity to meet Steve, to learn, grow and become a happier person. Time spent with Steve in both formal and informal ways, is definitely one of the greatest, most enriching and rewarding gifts I have ever had in my life. The value you can gain from Steve as a human being, as a fantastic trainer and coach, as a person who radiates authentic positivity cannot be described in words, it can be only felt by joining his inspiring Masters journey to have a life of purpose. Steve's great energy and strong desire to help people move forward is changing the world and making it a better place."
